Speak Ghana

Reconnect. Speak. Thrive.

Basic Greetings & Introductions

Nkyea ne Daadaa Nkɔmmɔdie!

Greetings and Everyday Talk – Welcome to Chapter 2!

Figure 1: Akwaaba! – The Power of a Warm Twi Greeting

Akwaaba bio! Welcome again!

You've mastered the sounds and syllables in Chapter 1. Now it's time to use them in real life!

In Asante culture (and Ghana as a whole), greetings are very important. They show respect, build community, and open doors. In Accra markets, churches, trotros, or family homes, you greet before you ask questions, buy, or talk. Skipping a greeting can feel rude; a good one makes people smile and help you more.

This section teaches time-of-day greetings, responses, "how are you?", politeness words, and self-introductions. By the end, you'll handle a polite greeting chat, perfect for daily life in Ghana!

Why Greetings Are So Important in Akan Culture

Greetings aren't just "hello". They honor the person and show obuo (respect).

- Greet elders first: Always greet elders before anyone else. Use special responses like Yaa agya (for elder men) and Yaa ɛna (for elder women).
- Greet groups properly: When entering a room or gathering, greet everyone with Mema mo nyinaa akwaaba (I welcome you all).
- Always respond: Silence feels cold. Always reply when greeted.
- Add Nyame adom: "By God's grace" is humble and commonly used in responses.
- Practice everywhere: In Accra markets, trotros, or with family, people will appreciate your effort and correct you kindly.

Pro Tip: Smile, make eye contact, and offer a light handshake (especially with elders). Ghanaians will love that you're trying!

Time-of-Day Greetings & Responses

Use these greetings every day. Say them aloud!

Greetings Table

English	Formal Twi	Short/Informal	Pronunciation
Good morning	Mema wo akye	Maakye	meh-mah woh ah-cheh
Good afternoon	Mema wo aha	Maaha	meh-mah woh ah-hah
Good evening	Mema wo adwo	Maadwo	meh-mah woh ah-dwoh
Welcome (singular)	Akwaaba	—	ah-kwah-bah
Welcome (plural)	Mema mo akwaaba	—	meh mah moh ah-kwah-bah

Responses Table

Response Type	Examples	When to Use
To elder man	Yaa agya	Showing respect to an older man
To elder woman	Yaa ɛna	Showing respect to an older woman
To peer/sibling	Yaa nua	To someone your age
General response	Yaa!	Quick, casual reply
Group reply	Yaanom!	Responding to a group greeting

How to Ask "How Are You?"

Twi	Pronunciation	Meaning
Wo ho te sɛn?	woh hoh teh sehn?	How are you? (formal)
Ɛte sɛn?	eh-teh sehn?	How is it? (informal)
Na wo nsoɛ?	nah woh nsoh ɛ?	And you?

Common Replies to "How Are You?"

Twi	Pronunciation	Meaning
Me ho yɛ	meh hoh yeh	I am fine
Ɛyɛ	eh-yeh	It is good
Ɛyɛ yie	eh-yeh yee-eh	It is good (emphatic)
Nyame adom	nyah-meh ah-dohm	By God's grace
Nyame adom, me ho yɛ	nyah-meh ah-dohm, meh hoh yeh	By God's grace, I am fine
Bɔkɔɔ	boh-koh-oh	Cool / Calm

Basic Self-Introductions

Now introduce yourself!

Twi	English	Pronunciation
Me din de	My name is	meh din deh .
Wo din de sɛn?	What is your name?	woh din deh sehn?
Wɔfrɛ wo sɛn?	What do they call you?	wɔ-freh woh sehn?
Mefiri	I am from	meh-fee-ree .....
Wofiri he?	Where are you from?	woh-fee-ree heh?
Mete	I live in	meh-teh .....
Wote he?	Where do you live?	woh-teh heh?
Ɛyɛ me sɛ mehyia wo.	Nice to meet you.	ɛ-yɛ meh sɛ meh-hyee-ah woh.

Politeness Words & Everyday Phrases

These words will make your conversations smoother and more respectful.

Twi	Pronunciation	Meaning
Medaase / Me da wo ase	meh-dah-seh	Thank you
Mepa wo kyɛw	meh-pah woh cheh-oo	Please / Excuse me
Da yie	dah yee-eh	Good night / Sleep well
Aane	ah-neh	Yes
Daabi	dah-bee	No
Yɛbɛhyia bio	yeh-beh-hyee-ah bee-oh	We'll meet again / Goodbye
Nante yie	nahn-teh yee-eh	Safe journey
Ayekoo!	ah-yeh-koh-oh	Well done!
Yoo	yoh-oh	OK / Alright

More Everyday Phrases

These phrases will help you navigate daily life in Ghana:

Twi	English	When to Use
Mete ase	I understand	When you follow what's being said
Mente ase	I don't understand	When you need clarification
Ka bio	Say it again	Ask someone to repeat
Nkakrankakra	Slowly / Little by little	Ask someone to speak slower
Ɛhe?	Where?	Asking location
Ɛdɛn?	What?	Asking for something
Hwan?	Who?	Asking about a person

Building Greetings from Chapter 1 Sounds

Look closely at the greetings you've just learned, they're built from the exact sounds and syllables you practiced in Chapter 1!

Word/Phrase	Syllables	Chapter 1 Sounds Used
Akwaaba	A-kwaa-ba	a, kw, aa, b, a
Mema	Me-ma	m, e, m, a
Akye	A-kye	a, ky, e
Adwo	A-dwo	a, dw, o
Maakye	Maa-kye	m, aa, ky, e
Maaha	Maa-ha	m, aa, h, a
Maadwo	Maa-dwo	m, aa, dw, o

See how the consonants and vowels from Chapter 1 come together to form real words? This is the power of learning sounds first!

Practice: Pick any greeting from this section and break it into syllables. Say each syllable slowly, then blend them together.

Syllable Breakdown – Using Chapter 1 Skills

Break these greetings into syllables (CV structure mostly) and practice saying them:

- A-kwaa-ba → a (V) + kwaa (CCVV with kw blend) + ba (CV)

- Me-ma wo a-kye → me (CV) + ma (CV) + wo (CV) + a (V) + kye (CV with ky blend)
- Wo ho te sɛn? → wo (CV) + ho (CV) + te (CV) + sɛn (CV)
- Nya-me a-dom → nya (CCV with ny blend) + me (CV) + a (V) + dom (CVC)

Say slowly → blend → full speed. Notice the ky, kw, and ny blends from Chapter 1!

Sample Greeting Dialogues

Practice with a partner or record yourself.

Dialogue 1: Morning Meeting (Peer)

A: Maakye! Wo ho te sɛn?
B: Yaa nua! Nyame adom, me ho yɛ. Na wo nso?
A: Nyame adom, ɛyɛ. Ɛyɛ me dɛ sɛ mehyia wo!
B: Me nso sa ara! Yɛbɛhyia bio.

Translation:
A: Good morning! How are you?
B: Hey sibling! By God's grace, I am fine. And you?
A: By God's grace, it is good. Nice to meet you!
B: Me too! We'll meet again.

Dialogue 2: Greeting an Elder

A: Mema wo akye, agya!
B: Yaa, me ba! Wo ho te sɛn?
A: Nyame adom, me ho yɛ. Na wo nso, agya?
B: Nyame adom, bɔkɔɔ. Akwaaba!

Translation:
A: Good morning, sir!
B: Yes, my child! How are you?
A: By God's grace, I am fine. And you, sir?
B: By God's grace, calm. Welcome!

Common Mistakes to Avoid

- Mistake: Forgetting to greet elders first.
  Fix: Always greet the oldest person in the room before anyone else.
- Mistake: Using "Wo ho te sɛn?" with an elder without proper respect.
  Fix: Add "agya" (sir) or "ɛna" (ma) – "Agya, wo ho te sɛn?"

- Mistake: Saying "Medaase" but not meaning it.
  Fix: In Ghana, gratitude is expressed warmly – say it with a smile!
- Mistake: Using "Daabi" too bluntly.
  Fix: Soften with "Mepa wo kyɛw" first: "Mepa wo kyɛw, daabi."
- Mistake: Forgetting to respond when greeted.
  Fix: Always reply – silence is considered rude.

Tips for Success in Ghana

- Practice everywhere: Try your greetings in Makola Market, in a trotro, or with Ghanaian friends — people will respond warmly!
- Listen to music: Highlife and Afrobeats songs are full of natural Twi phrases. Listen for greetings.
- Watch Ghanaian movies: YouTube has many Ghanaian films with subtitles. Notice how people greet each other.
- Don't be shy: If you forget a word, smile and say "Mepa wo kyɛw, metumi aka bio?" (Please, can I say it again?)
- When in doubt: A warm smile and "Medaase" can fix almost anything!

Chapter Summary – What You've Learned

- Time-of-day greetings (morning, afternoon, evening)
- Proper responses based on age and relationship
- How to ask "How are you?" and respond naturally
- How to introduce yourself (name, where you're from, where you live)
- Politeness words (please, thank you, excuse me)
- Everyday phrases for daily conversations
- How to break greetings into syllables from Chapter 1
- Common mistakes to avoid
- Full dialogues for real-life situations

Kɔ so sua! – Keep learning!
You've taken your first real steps to speak Twi. Practice daily, soon you'll greet like family!
Coming up next: Numbers and Counting!

Reconnect. Speak. Thrive.

Speak Ghana Language School
www.speakghana.org
WhatsApp: +233 55 226 3323

Yɛn toa so! – Let's continue!